To breed or not to breed! The BOViFLAG™ heat detection aid helps to identify estrus in cows.

The BOViFLAG™ heat detection aid helps to identify estrus in cows. The product features a scratch-off surface on top of a brightly coloured self-adhesive layer. The patch is stuck between the hip and tail head of the cow. When the cow is mounted by other cows, the scratch-off layer is removed, exposing the brightly coloured layer underneath.

- self-adhesive (no additional glue required)
- available in 4 colours

Checking for results

BoviTime BoviFlags heat detection patches works like scratch-off cards. Cows mounting the cow in oestrus, will rub off the silver scratch-off layer. After repetitive mountings, most of the silver scratch-off layer will be removed. This will be a clear sign that the cow is in oestrus and have been mounted several times.

If the silver scratch-off strip is only partially removed, it is probably caused by playful behaviour of the cows, tail swipes or other cows resting their heads on the heat detection patch. At least 50% of the silver paint should be removed to indicate standing heat. High stress environments, hot weather and crowded conditions could cause less mounting behaviour.
